Where This List Came From

This is my personal list of what my kids need to know when. Therefore, it is different from other lists. There are other resources in this area with slightly different lists. Feel free to add or subtract from my list and make it your own.

This list helps me to stay on target and evaluate at the end of each school year whether my children are on track or not. Keep in mind that children learn different subjects at different paces. They also learn on their own schedule, not necessarily just like “all the other homeschooled kids!”

You will notice this list is not divided up by grades, just early elementary, later elementary, middle school, and high school. Like most homeschoolers, I don’t necessarily think in terms of what to learn in what grade, but rather learning in sections and moving on to the next section.

You will find other lists that are different. I’m just a homeschool mom, not an “expert” so I share my list with you! Again, adapt it, make it your own!

Real Men Discipleship Manuals

God calls fathers to impart life to their sons, passing the baton in the race of faith. These Bible studies were created for fathers (or mentors) to go through this material with their sons. Pastor Mike Curtis used these materials to mentor his own son and other young men in the church. These manuals cover tough issues that fathers and sons need to talk about and live out in their lives.

Real Men High School Bible/Life Skills

Do you want to prepare your sons to become godly husbands, fathers, church leaders, and pillars in their communities? These one-credit high school life skills classes build character and prepare young men for the future. Using living books, Scripture, and practical assignments, young men will learn to become the man God has called them to be.

Maggie King Mysteries

If you like cozy mysteries, you will love this series! Meet Maggie King, a pastor's wife and homeschool mom who keeps stumbling across dead bodies. With her sidekicks, Sophia and Mary-Kate and her curious children, Maggie is on one adventure after another.
